The Master of Arts in Ministry is a professional degree program that equips students for ministry both inside and outside of congregational settings. Tailored for your vocational goals, the MA in Ministry offers a focused route to theological education.

Central's goal is to "educate and form creative leaders to minister to and serve humanity in a rapidly changing global environment." If this describes you, we urge you to consider the MA in Ministry.

Chin Track: 13 credit hours in English and 23 in Chin.

English Proficiency: English proficiency is required. A portion of the curriculum, student advising, and all official seminary communications will be conducted in English.

"In an ever-changing world, Central is the leader in expanding and sharing the love of Christ to all people. Central prepares leaders from all walks of life and backgrounds across the globe to pursue God and serve all creation. Central values diversity and makes sure that all students' needs are met."

Admissions and English Proficiency

Start your application today. Chin cohorts will begin in Fall (August) 2026 and Fall 2028. Official transcripts, character references and an autobiographical statement will be required for admission. Applicants should have a bachelor's degree from an accredited educational institution. A limited number of students without an earned baccalaureate degree or its equivalent may be admitted to the MA program through alternative credentialing. Applicants for whom English is not their first language will be required to demonstrate their English proficiency through a writing sample or interview.
